CARCASS TRIMMING (RETAIN RAIL) SKILL SET

National ID: AMPSS00007 State ID: AD704

Overview

Western Australia's known for providing high quality meat products for domestic and international markets.

This skill set trains you to safely and skilfully trim a carcass hanging from a retain rail in a modern meat processing facility.

You'll be trained how to sharpen knives, inspect the carcass forequarters and hindquarters, remove contamination, and manage all aspects of the retain rail (including pathology and dressing defects).

This skill set is 100% free for eligible students!

This is your opportunity to get a start within a secure industry that's actively seeking qualified workers.

The practical training you get will ensure you're job ready for an entry level role in the established WA meat processing industry.

Further study options

Successful graduates of this program will receive credit for completed units if you choose to go on to further study with the Certificate II in Meat Processing (Abattoirs).
