AQUATIC TECHNICAL OFFICER

State ID AE443

Overview

How would you like to work in one of WA's many beautiful aquatic facilities, looking after important areas such as the quality of pool water and the safety of the facilities?

Western Australians love the water, and aquatic technical officers are in high demand – not just in summer, but all year round! This skill set will give you the skills and knowledge required to get into this occupation. You'll learn how to identify and manage risks; test pool water quality; maintain the facility's plant and equipment, implement pool water and facility maintenance procedures; operate self-contained breathing apparatus; and respond to emergency situations. This training meets the requirements for accreditation in this field.

Further study options

The units in this skill set may lead to the qualifications listed below and other qualifications that allow selection of these units.

» Certificate IV in Sport and Recreation
